

For immediate release

October 24, 2006

VISIT SPOOKY WORLD AND AVOID BEING HAUNTED BY DISAPPOINTMENT

“Spook early” is the message being broadcast from the fabulous Cheshire-based farm theme park, Apple Jacks Farm, which is laying on experiences full of ghoulies, ghosties and things that go bump in the night right through to October 31.

Its ‘Spooky World’ attraction (www.spookyworld.co.uk) has a double bill of scary goings on, comprising Fun By Day and Scary By Night, both of which encompass the three main highlights - The Haunted Hayride, The Field of Screams and The Haunted House.

Visitors climb aboard one of three tractor-drawn carts for the Haunted Hayride, which sees them entering the Forbidden Forest to encounter actors out to send a shiver down anyone’s spine. If that isn’t enough, a walk through the corn field will set nerves jangling for The Field of Screams experience, whilst touring Old Grandad Jack’s evil uncle’s abandoned house to find the way out, preferably before uncle finds you first, requires a non nervous disposition!

Away from the creaky floorboards and spiders’ webs, there is a pumpkin carving tent, with a daily competition, Wacky Races pedal kart racing, a Boo-dle Maze and a Boo-Bog. Visitors can stroll down the Boo-levard and enjoy a range of barbecued food from the Italian and Fijian influenced Jack’s Grill.

Parents of children aged under 10 are advised to plump for the Fun By Day option open from 11am to 5pm every day to October 31. This allows them to enjoy the bewitching delights of Spooky World and see the farm animals, visit Little Spooks Farm and the mini mazes and have fun on the catapult inspired Slinger Driving Range. There are also fancy dress parades at both 3 pm and 8pm

Entrance for Fun By Day costs £6.95 for children aged 4-12 and £7.95 for over 12s and adults. A family ticket costs £28.00 and at Apple Jacks, a family can comprise two adults and two children, or one adult and three children. Under 4s gain free admission.

Scary By Night is definitely an experience for older children and adults and groups can be catered for, with a discount of 10% for those numbering over 20. This thrilling night out that can last 3-4 hours costs £8.95 for a single ticket, or £32 for a family with older children. Scary By Night admissions are from 5pm-10pm every night to October 31.

Apple Jacks farm theme park promises to be a scream this October, so get yourself, your friends or your family down there as soon as possible – if you don't, it might just haunt you.

Press calls: Jane Hunt, Catapult PR, 01253 595558 – jane@catapultpr.co.uk